🐦 WeRateDogs Twitter account Insights and Findings

The following provides insights and findings generated from analyzing the Twitter account (WeRateDogs). Analysis and visualization have been conducted using Python. The dataset includes numerical (such as rating numerator, rating denominator, retweets, favorites counts, followers counts etc) and categorical variables (such as dog type, size, and name, Tweet text, retweeted status)

Clumber have highest rates, but people love retriever

The following dog breeds are the ones which have the highest average of rates. Clumber is the dog breed with the highest mean of ratings.

However, when grouping all the tweets by dog breed, data shows that retriever have highest retweet counts

The highest rating was for a tweet with a video of many dogs of the Labrador_retriever breed

While the dog which (sadly) received the lowest rating is of a Japanese_spaniel breed
